GREETINGS FELLOW PONDERS:

I hope everyone's ponds are doing well, this month I have a lot to cover, first off I would like to thank Chris & Dennis Wilkolaski, Jerry & Angie Cyrek and Nancy Wojnowski for helping clean the Erie County Fair pond this past Saturday, the pond is still there and we are now in charge of anything inside the fence.

The water Hyacinth's are in and we will have them at this month's meeting for pickup, please remember to pay if you have not already

This month's meeting will be held at Reinstein Woods (93 Honorine Drive, Depew, NY 14043) please see below for details

4:00 pm we need a few people to help clean the pond

6:00 We will have Hotdogs and Salads for our refreshment

7:00 Meeting inside with talk on invasive species, we will have no refreshments during the meeting, we might take a couple minute break

I am sorry for the changed meeting location, we could not have our new location due to a scheduling conflict, and the pond cleaning will save some of us time on our busy weekends

Next month is our huge plant sale, details at the meeting:

Our next event is our Koi Show for the weekend of June 25th & 26th at Masterson's Garden Center in East Aurora NY, I am asking our membership for help at this event, Last year I took on this task basically last minute, but with the help of a small group we did very well. This year some stupid person said they would run the Show, and then volunteered to be President and do the newsletter, well here it is, I have only so many hours in the Day, and with two young children my time is valuable. SO I am asking the membership to step up, we need people for setup Thursday, Friday we need a couple of people to help with fish, Saturday we need people to represent the club, Sunday we need people for the auction, and for tear-down, but most of all we need people to bring their babies to show them off (Koi of course) I know Phil at least has my back does anyone else? This is the event that got me into this hobby, maybe it will get someone else, but we need people to show, please think about it, talk to me if you have questions
